

Distribution of interval-level approximation errors

Relative Frobenius error on a logarithmic horizontal axis

Aggregated relative Frobenius error: training 35.2%, holdout 46.4%. The aggregated and interval-level summaries use different weighting.